A sample of hidden sites in the onion network sorted by categories

Important Note This collection of screenshots is from TOR hidden websites. Each piece have been sampled algorithmically using a handmade crawler and a base directory, in essence it works the same as Google Search Engine. This mean that each piece have not been carefully reviewed, and even if each website have been processed to filter sensitives images before the screenshot, even if I have spent time to discard high sensitive images, some content may hurt or could be totally illegal. Please, be aware of .this warning

Domain Name

The purpose of the DNS is to enable Internet applications and their users to name things that need a globally unique name. The benefit is easily memorizable names for things like web pages or mailboxes, rather than codes. The other benefit is the separation of the name from its location.

A top level domain is the last part of an internet address. There are about 315 country-level codes - such as .nl, .it or .fr for France - and 1239 "generic" TLDs (gTLDs) that go across the net – such as .com or .org. Only Icann – the internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers – can create new TLDs, whether country, generic, etc..., because only it has the authority to change the "root zone" – the computer file which authorises new TLDs. Attributed TLDs are managed by corporations, governments, associations or Icann itself, they have the power to write and remove from each telephone directory.

Internet.

Unlike the telephone network, which for years in most countries was run by a single company, the Internet consists of tens of thousands of interconnected networks run by different agents. Open standards enable this network of networks to communicate.

Request

The RFC system was invented by Steve Crocker in 1969 to help record unofficial notes on the development of ARPANET. RFCs have since become official documents of Internet specifications, communications protocols, procedures, and events. According to Crocker, the documents "shape the Internet's inner workings and have played a significant role in its success", but are not well known outside the community

Request for Comments (RFC), in information and communications technology, is a type of text document from the technology community. An RFC document may come from many bodies including from the Internet Engineering Task Force (IETF), the Internet Research Task Force (IRTF), the Internet Architecture Board (IAB), or from independent authors. The RFC system is supported by the Internet Society (ISOC).

TCP/IP Protocol

The official name of TCP/IP is the Internet Protocol Suite. TCP/IP provides end-to-end data communication specifying how data should be packetized, addressed, transmitted, routed, and received. It's the fundamental suite of protocols that is shared by all interconnected servers that make the Internet.

TOR
Onion routing was developed in the mid-1990s at the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory to protect U.S. intelligence communications online. It was further developed by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) and patented by the Navy in 1998. After the Naval Research Laboratory released the code for Tor under a free license, The Tor Project was founded as a non-profit organization in 2006, with the financial support of the Electronic Frontier Foundation and several other organizations.

The latest Onion Routing system is freely available and runs on most common operating systems. There is a Tor network of several thousands nodes, processing traffic from hundreds of thousands of unknown users.

Onion Routing prevents the transport medium from knowing who is communicating with whom – the network knows only that communication is taking place. In addition, the content of the communication is hidden from eavesdroppers up to the point where the traffic leaves the TOR network. Web services and other services are subject to Distributed Denial of Service and even potential physical attack. But if the logical and physical location of a service is hidden, then it can resist such attacks, even from those with authorized access to the service. Hidden services and clients use rendezvous points to communicate.

Interesting. I always thought of Fedora as the opposite to Debian, a system that has new packages and one to innovate the distro landscape. Nice to see them 'settle down'!

Number One Human Enemy

The Image Displayed above is Kepler-186f. Kepler-186f is referred by the badu as Kvital. Kvital is the most dangerous planet currently being watched by badu. Kvital is ideal for life forms not just because of its location in the habitable area of its star. It has a rocky landscape with water. We do not currently have the technology to view its elements, however we can estimate that due to its mass the environment would be similar to earth however slightly colder.

Weapons Against Aliens

Although Alien Types Are Not Known, we have made a weapon that is to be used against a single alien. It uses an altered version of liquid nitrogen that is lethal to non-human life forms and highly dangerous to humans. Future weapons against aliens will target larger groups of aliens. For example project holomorph attempts to increase the heat of a normal laser to a level lethal to all life forms, however this laser will be laced with bacteria lethal to these aliens. We are also looking into more classified methods

"For All The Right Reasons"

Our dream is to see a world where sexual services are no longer stigmatized, and are available to everyone.

We aim to become the first online, discreet, and trustworthy escort agency. Our pseudonymous reputation tracking system will assure safety and quality of service for providers and clients alike, without sacrificing privacy. Our financial overhead is much lower than traditional agencies: clients will pay less, while service providers still earn more.

Don't be fooled by imitators. There are many, many sites on Tor hawking escort services, but none of them have a reputation system. All of them appeared overnight, by magic, with the same set of girls they've always had. Every girl provides every service, and every girl will travel worldwide at the drop of a hat. This is not reality. These are all run-of-the-mill scams put together by some schmuck who doesn't realize the work it takes to start a new agency.

We know we have a long road ahead of us. And that's why we need your help. What is an escort service without escorts? Since we don't have the luxury of being able to fabricate our girls out of thin air from Google Images and a copy-pasted bio, we need referrals. If you can refer an escort to us, or happen to be one yourself, please apply to be one of our service providers. We accept every race and every body type. You don't need to be experienced, but you must be willing to learn. Refer service providers to us and earn up to €1,000!

Hey there,

If you came here from chchchiajhk7jqci.onion and believed any of it, please note that you are a gullible dumbass.

I (wowaname) have made it no secret who I am online; I can be found on clearnet as well as Tor and I2P. This has always been the case. I spend far more time on clearnet in fact, and I only operate hidden services and participate in Tor communities because I believe in freedom of speech and expression, and the power that anonymity/privacy gives the average user to express that freedom.

As many of you know, Hidden Answers (the largest site operated by Chen Hosting to date) is still up and running, as are all the other unnamed personal and miscellaneous sites that I operate pro-bono at this point. I do not get paid directly from hosting by many customers; hopefully this will change and I can make enough to maintain server costs. I only wish I could earn anywhere close to 200 BTC off hidden service hosting. I've hardly earned one bitcoin off it all.

This troll / idiot operating chchchiajhk7jqci.onion either hates me enough to claim that I'm scamming others, or just wants to start shit and fish for a reaction, but in any case they know absolutely nothing about me. It's impressive, actually, given how little I try to hide my true self online. I'm a very honest person and I have made best efforts to disallow scams and material I personally object. And I most certainly do not misspell "doxed" -- it's one X.

My personal website is and has always been <<https://wowana.me/>>, it has had a hidden service at <<http://opalrfw4mzmlfmag.onion/>> and <<http://opal.i2p/>> for years (and I have no idea if the I2P link actually *works* at any given time, since it's so unstable). My contact and PGP information is and has always been there; lately I have also had a Keybase profile (at <<https://keybase.io/opal>> or <<http://fncuwbisyh6ak3i.onion/opal>>) to make it easier to verify me. And my current PGP key is signed by my previous one before I rotated it.

Welcome to site of scam

Be careful dishonest sellers (scammers) fake my site and include their sites there as trusted. These are scammers

Our site is <http://yjh3ojgywls7bb5.onion>

Hello

Some time ago, in my stupidity, I tried to make several transactions on the Dark Internet.

And you know how many times I was deceived?

- 6 freaking times. I think that this is already too much.

That is why I created this website so that you can check out if the product or service your are about to buy is really true or just another scam. The dark web is a tool to be safe, anonymous and hidden on the web where the government don't see everything you do.

So before you order or buy, take a minute and check my list. If the onion site or person is listed here, then that people is about to steal your money and you should to think twice whether you want to lose your money.

This list is no where complete and it never will, but together we can constantly supplement it.

If you have been scammed by someone, and this site isn't listed here, submit the site or the person using the "Submit a scam site" link in the top.

Tor .onion url

From the outside it may seem that in order to get into the Deep Internet you need to be a hacker and have some significant knowledge in the field of computer networks. In fact, everything is much easier. All you need to enter the Dark Internet is a special browser called TOR Browser. Well, access to the Internet is required too, but I think it's obvious.

Goo .onion urls

How to go to the onion website? Download and install directly Tor Browser. It can be taken from the official website. The download package, in turn, contains everything you need: the client itself to access the network, and a proxy server that will "cut" out of the traffic "unnecessary", and a program that helps to conveniently manage all this good, providing anonymity and unhindered surfing on the "invisible side of the Web". Then you can start searching for resources. Beginners are advised to start with a hidden Wiki, which redirects the user to wherever he wants, and it would be good to have this communication on harmless anonymous forums. To work tor browser on your computer, install Mozilla Firefox

The Debian Mozilla team provides various versions of some Mozilla related packages for use on different Debian systems. The following wizard helps you to find the packages suitable for your system.

WARNING: Iceweasel is gone. Please update your apt sources.

WARNING: Jessie and Stretch backports of Firefox release and beta are gone because of the requirement of rust to build them, which is not available in Jessie or Stretch. Please update your apt sources to use Firefox ESR instead.

Introduction

You are running Debian stable, because you prefer the Debian stable tree. It runs great, there is just one problem: the software is a little bit outdated compared to other distributions. This is where backports come in.

Backports are packages taken from the next Debian release (called "testing"), adjusted and recompiled for usage on Debian stable. Because the package is also present in the next Debian release, you can easily upgrade your stable+backports system once the next Debian release comes out. (In a few cases, usually for security updates, backports are also created from the Debian unstable distribution.)

Backports cannot be tested as extensively as Debian stable, and backports are provided on an as-is basis, with risk of incompatibilities with other components in Debian stable. Use with care!

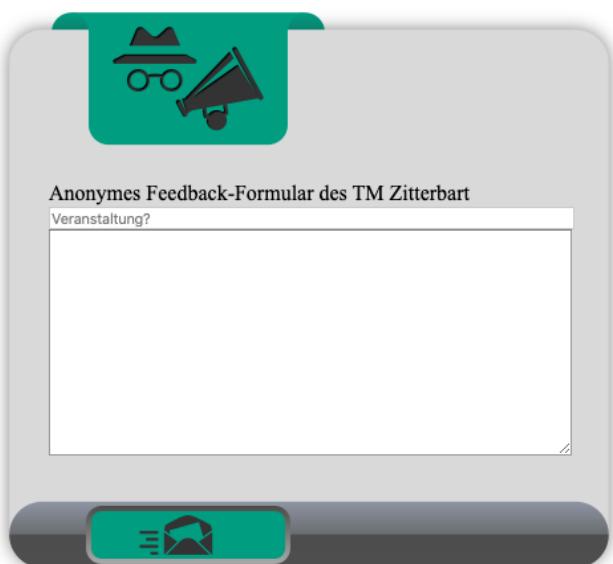

It is therefore recommended to only select single backported packages that fit your needs, and not use all available backports.

Where to start

- Users should start at the Instructions page.
- Contributors should start Contribute page.

Welcome!

Welcome to the AppStream Generator HTML pages!

These pages exist to provide a user-friendly view on the issues discovered by the AppStream metadata generator while extracting metadata from packages in the Debian archive. They can also be used to take a look at the raw metadata, to spot possible problems with the data itself or the generation process.

Oni malofte pensas pri ordinaraĵoj, kiel nombrosistemoj. Oni nur uzas la dekuman ĉar ĝi estas kutima, ĉar ĝin oni lernis en lernejo, ktp. Sed ordinaraĵoj ne ĉiam estas optimumoj. Kiam avantaĝo de iu ago estas malgranda, kaj la pasaĝo estas malfacila kaj multekosta, oni verŝajne ne aspiros pasi. ### tmpreaper: keep your temp files under control

November 22nd, 2009 edited by Tincho

Article submitted by JP Vossen. DebADay needs you more than ever! Please submit good articles about software you like!

The tmpreaper utility will clean out your temporary file directories by recursively removing files that haven't been accessed in some amount of time. You can configure exclusions and it will not dive into symlinks, or remove symlinks, sockets, FIFOs, or special files unless specifically told to.

However, the package description contains this:

WARNING: Please do not run `tmpreaper` on `/'.
There are no protections against this written into the program, as that would prevent it from functioning the way you'd expect it to in a `chroot(8)' environment.

After you install the package, you need to manually edit `/etc/tmpreaper.conf` and remove or comment the `SHOWWARNING=true` line to actually active it. Also review the

Nevěřící

Nevěřím v boha, v osud či v posmrtný život. Jsem ateista, bězvěrec, infidel. Má mysl je nicméně otevřená a rád se nechám přesvědčit, pokud mi někdo poskytne dobrý důvod. V zásadě bych věřil rád, život by se mi žil o to lépe, ale nechci v něco věřit jenom proto, že to přináší dobrý pocit.

Ateismus

Ateismus je absence víry v boha. Existence boha je tvrzení, které je třeba prokázat. A vzhledem ke své mimořádné povaze vyžaduje také mimořádně silné důkazy. Ti, kteří učiní závěr, že toto tvrzení nebylo prokázáno, se nazývají ateisté.

SNOWFLAKE

The diagram illustrates the Snowflake system architecture. It shows a flow from a CLIENT (green box) through a BROKER (blue box) to a DESTINATION (green box). The process involves several steps:

- ① The CLIENT sends a "domain-fronted offer" to the BROKER.
- ② The BROKER sends an "offer/answer" back to the CLIENT.
- ③ The CLIENT sends an "answer" back to the BROKER.
- ④ The CLIENT establishes a "WebRTC" connection to a BRIDGE (blue box).
- ⑤ The BRIDGE connects the CLIENT to the DESTINATION.

Between the BROKER and the BRIDGE, there is a cluster of purple squares labeled "SNOWFLAKE PROXIES".

ZERODISCLO by YESWEHACK

WELCOME TO ZERODISCLO.COM !

THE RIGHT PATH TO COORDINATED VULNERABILITY DISCLOSURE

In constant contact with its community of security researchers, YesWeHack can testify that it is complex for a security researcher and therefore, for a whistle-blower to report security flaws -in a coordinated way- to impacted organizations. Especially, if those organizations do not have a Bug Bounty program registered on Yes We Hack

Discoverers of vulnerabilities often experience difficulties on how to report them to the organizations concerned without disclosing them to a third party and unfortunately direct contact with companies constitutes a legal risk.

A long-time partner of the security research community through its founders, YesWeHack is proud to present ZeroDisclo.com. This non-profit platform provides the technical means and the required environment for all to adopt the coordinated reporting of vulnerabilities commonly known as "Coordinated Vulnerability Disclosure"

Secure The op source

The screenshot shows the SecureDrop website homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links: Overview, List of SecureDrops, News, Contribute, Donate, FAQ, and a search icon. Below the navigation is a large blue header section containing the SecureDrop logo (a white 3D cube with 'SD' and a question mark) and the text 'SECUREDROP Share and accept documents securely.' A detailed description follows: 'SecureDrop is an open source whistleblower submission system that media organizations and NGOs can install to securely accept documents from anonymous sources. It was originally created by the late Aaron Swartz and is now managed by Freedom of the Press Foundation. SecureDrop is available in 20 languages.' At the bottom of this section is a button labeled 'Get SecureDrop at your organization >'. The rest of the page has a light blue background.

Aktuell: Das Verteidigungsministerium will die Afghanistan-Papiere aus dem Internet löschen.

Die Afghanistan Papiere

Jahrelang wurde der deutschen Öffentlichkeit der Krieg in Afghanistan als Friedenmission verkauft. Tatsächlich aber sind die deutschen Soldaten in Afghanistan mitten in einem Krieg, der kaum noch zu gewinnen ist. Dabei riskieren sie ihr Leben im Auftrag des deutschen Bundestages für einen korrupten Staat, dessen Herrscher in Drogenmachschaften verwickelt sind.

Wir veröffentlichen hier einige tausend Seiten aus den Einsatzberichten der Bundeswehr. Diese so genannten „Unterrichtungen des Parlamentes“ sind „VS – nur für den Dienstgebrauch“ gestempelt. Das ist die niedrigste von vier Geheimhaltungsstufen der Bundesrepublik. Sie beschreiben alle Einsätze der Bundeswehr in der ganzen Welt – vor allem in Afghanistan.

Die Berichte wurden uns zugespielt; sie liegen teilweise nur in schlechter Qualität vor – deswegen brauchen wir Ihre Hilfe.
